

Celebrating Forty Years of Border Fine Arts Figurines

2014 sees Border Fine Arts celebrating forty years of making highly-detailed, sought-after, handmade figurines in the Scottish Borders, as well as twenty-five years of the Border Fine Arts Society, and to celebrate this momentous achievement Ray Ayres, Master Sculptor, has created a fabulous Limited Edition.

This exciting 40th Anniversary Figurine is entitled An Occasional Rest and features an International 434 with elevator and trailer. In the scene, the crop has been cut and bagged and, thanks to advancements in automation, what used to involve two men lifting each sack is now done by the elevator and even allows for the odd opportunity for 'an occasional rest'.

Another highlight of the mid-year launch is a follow-on figurine of Zwartbles sheep. Zwartble Ewe & Lamb was introduced in January 2011, and proved so popular that Ray has now sculpted this Ram, Ewe & Lamb to accompany it and it is certain to appeal to breeders and admirers of this increasingly popular breed from the Friesland region of Holland.
