

New for 2014, probably the most self expressive of all automobiles are Hot Rods. No other vehicle gives you the opportunity to show off your own tastes in car design and ownership so well.

Normally each car or bike is a collection of the owner's ideas of exactly how he or she wants the vehicle to look. Paint, engine, customs styles aplenty, each time a new car is completed you end up with a unique vehicle, which expresses the likes and loves of its owner.

Speed Freaks' four new subjects cover the individual style that make up the art of Hot Rods in exactly the same way. Albeit a fairly safe collection of styles in both paint and design, all four sum up everything that's unique and exciting about Hot Rods.

Rat is about as basic and nasty as a Rat Rod gets. No high polished chrome for this '32 Tudor, it's just rust, dirt and a ground scraping stance for what is currently the top choice for starting out building a low cost Hot Rod of your own, with a huge engine of course...

Pest Control is the perfect model A pick-up. Old school style. Nice mean stance with an unchopped top. Finished in a pearl sandy gold. Not touched or altered since it was built in 1962!

Salt is the '32 roadster we'd all love to own to run on the salt flats. Super sleek to slip through the air at 200mph.

Strip, last but not least, a nice old 60's style dragster. Engine up front, old super sticky slicks melting as they try to gain some traction. Front wheels four foot in the air. Driver not able to see a thing! Drag racing like it's supposed to be!

Four brand new old style Speed Freaks Hot Rods to whet the appetite of any real Hot Rod fan out there. The perfect addition to a garage or desk where going real fast in style is of the upmost importance.
