

New Arrivals From Border Fine Arts Classic

Loved by town and country folk alike for more than forty years, Border Fine Arts Classic figurines represent all aspects of country life, from nostalgic farming scenes to magnificent wildlife studies — as these two new figurines selected from the January 2015 launch demonstrate.

Red Alert, a spectacular study of a red kite, celebrates the successful resurgence of this beautiful bird in recent years after being persecuted and killed to extinction in both England and Scotland during the eighteenth century. While Winter Wheat, depicts another job on the farm that is made easier with the use of a tractor — this time it's sowing the 'winter wheat'.

Border Fine Arts Classic figurines are entirely hand crafted to exacting standards at our studio in the Scottish Borders. Attention to detail is very important to us and we are sure these new pieces will not disappoint.

Every piece is presented on a high quality wooden plinth for a perfect finish. Many are limited editions, and a special painting service is also available — allowing collectors to create their own totally unique figurines of lasting precious memories of special moments in their lives.
