

Border Fine Arts to unveil Prestigious Disney Collection – A Moment in Time.

The exquisite sculptures in Border Fine Arts' brand new A Moment in Time Disney collection portray a favourite moment from two of Walt Disney's most successful films – Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, and Pinocchio. The limited edition figurines are made in the UK at Border Fine Arts' Langholm-based studio, and only the most exceptional artists will be working on each piece. With such a pedigree the figurines are destined to become the ultimate 'must have' for serious Disney collectors.

Peter Mook, one of the UK's most talented sculptors whose art ranges from minute four-inch high figurines to imposing six-foot statues, worked alongside the Border Fine Arts design team, to create the original studies for the Moment in Time collection.

The Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs figurine is inspired by the iconic moment in the film when Snow White wakes up to find the dwarfs looking at her in awe from the bottom of her bed. Peter has included every intricate detail of the scene in the model from interpreting the grain of the wood to the adorable expressions of the dwarfs.

Meanwhile the memorable moment that Pinocchio first comes to life is the inspirational scene for the Geppetto & Pinocchio figurine.

After casting and assembling by hand, each of the figurines in the worldwide editions of 250 will be painted by hand meaning no two will be identical. And, as befits such prestigious studies, each will be presented with a numbered certificate of authenticity.
